

GIFTEDNESS
CONSOLIDATED
KNOWLEDGE AND PROMISING
DEVELOPMENTS
CONGRESS

High academic achievement; Psychological evaluation and new forms of identification;
Recent advances in neuroscience and
genetics;
Creativity;
Socio-emotional development;
Double exceptionality;
Longitudinal studies;
Professional excellence;
Family, school and community;
Teacher and Educators' training;
Education policies;
Models and evaluation practices;
Motivation and learning;
Neuropsychology;
Precocity of development;
Quality of life;
Lifelong transitions and development;
Technologies and educational communication.

Promote the exchange between researchers and practitioners in the areas of Education and Psychology; Present and discuss results of research and educational intervention projects;
Deepen the multidisciplinary approach on educational problems and in the field of Education Sciences; Contribute to the improvement of formal and informal education systems, and the professional development of its different agents.

target audience
Educators, teachers, parents, psychologists, researchers, professionals and students from different areas, such as Education Sciences, Psychology, Nursing and Medicine.

